The Client acknowledges and accepts that the order price of a market request may change or that the change in the order price may not in fact reflect the change in the current quoted price. This may occur when there is high volatility in the underlying market or low connectivity between the Company server and the Client terminal. Moreover, in the case of any communication and/or technical error that affects the quoted prices, the Company reserves the right not to execute an order.

An alteration would be made to maintain the economic equivalent of the rights and obligations of the parties of that transaction prior to a corporate action. The alterations are conclusive and binding and the Client will be properly and promptly informed by the Company.
11. The Company reserves the right of partial execution of orders in cases where the volume of the Client's order and/or the market conditions dictate such action. The amended transaction level will be such that the Company reasonably believes would have been fair at the time the Transaction was entered into. The Company will determine a Palpable Error by taking into account any relevant information including, without limitation, the state of the Underlying Market prices at the time of the error or any error in, or lack of clarity of, any information source or pronouncement upon which the Company bases its quoted prices. The Company will not rely on any transaction you have entered into with the Company when deciding whether or not there has been a Palpable Error.
15. The Company shall have the right to gradually close the Client's positions starting from the largest losing position, when the margin level of the Client Account is less than 50%.  - iii. Where we have reasonable grounds to believe that you have not acted in good faith, including, but not limited to where we determine that you have, willingly or not, abused the Expert Advisors (EAs) on BCR Non-Proprietary Platforms, then we reserve the right to take the appropriate actions as stated herein.

Unsuitable documentation may include fake, forged or altered documentation, which extends to alterations made physically or with alterations made by a computer to a photograph or scan.
 - v. Hedging in bad faith. Hedging is a strategy used in limiting or offsetting probability of loss from fluctuations in the prices of commodities, currencies, or securities. In effect, hedging in bad faith is the employment of various techniques but, basically taking equal and opposite positions in the same Financial Product or a Financial Product highly correlated at near the same time, indicating no interest in genuine trading. This can happen over a single account or over multiple accounts.

- vi. Use of excessive leverage. Excessive leverage is the opening of a position that requires a margin that is nearly all the free balance. This strategy significantly heightens the danger of the clients' account ending up in a sizeable negative balance.
- vii. Trading on off-market quotes. It is not permitted to conduct an activity involving the purchase of Financial Products of any price other than the market price at that instant.
- viii. Churning. Churning means excessive trading aiming to generate commissions. While there is no quantitative measure for churning, frequent buying and selling of securities that does little to meet the client's investment objectives may be construed as evidence of churning.

It is the norm that the last price before the break and the first price after the break to be significantly different. This difference, also known as a 'gap', means there is no market (no tradable prices) in that range. A gap can also be the outcome of news release. The Company is proud to offer in its Proprietary Platforms and mobile apps a guaranteed stop loss, take profit, pending order execution and negative balance protection to protect and enhance the trading of its clients. Negative balance protection is offered on all Platforms. Nonetheless, it is prohibited to use these features in bad faith. Examples where these features are used in bad faith are:
 - 1) Positions opened minutes or even seconds before the break or news release, in an attempt to generate profits without the risk of market moves.
 - 2) Positions that are large enough compared to the balance of the account, in an attempt to either generate profits or end up in a negative balance, which the company pays on your behalf.
 - 3) Simultaneous positions in the opposite direction (pending or marker orders), indicating no interest in the market direction.
- x. Multiple Account Operation. Clients may not trade using the accounts of others or allow others to trade using their account. Evidence of this activity includes (i) accounts operating from the same location, (ii) using/indicating the same IP address, (iii) multiple accounts displaying the same deposit and withdrawal patterns, (iv) accounts showing similar or identical trading patterns or (v) accounts sharing the same device. Where this activity is discovered, the Company reserves the right to close the affected accounts and all related open trading positions.
- xi. The Company reserves the right to take the appropriate action where deems necessary in circumstances where the terms and conditions of this agreement have been breached. The consequences of breaching one or more of the conditions, deemed as 'unauthorized activities', include but it is not limited to the suspension or closure of trades, the return of funds, the suspension or closure of your account, changing and/or decreasing the leverage, disable of EAs etc.

5. The maximum leverage provided to the Company's retail clients, depends on the asset class, including, but not limited to, liquidity and trading volumes, volatility and standard deviation, market cap, hedging capabilities, and the general economic climate and geopolitical events. All existing instruments that the Company makes available for trading to its retail clients are very liquid and the maximum leverages provided on these instruments are based among others on the recommendations and availability of our Liquidity Providers that we cooperate with.
